RMG Plant (Royal Machinery Global) was established as a supplier of quality earthmoving, construction, and mining equipment based in Pomona, Kempton Park, South Africa.

The company has built a reputation for providing reliable machinery suited to demanding industries such as mining, construction, and large-scale earthmoving operations.

Through its network within the heavy equipment industry, RMG Plant has been able to source and supply machinery to meet the needs of various operations, helping businesses expand their fleets with dependable equipment.

As the company continues to grow and adapt to the changing machinery market, RMG Plant has taken the next step in its evolution by transitioning its business model to RMG Auctions, a specialised online platform focused on the auctioning of premium earthmoving equipment.

This transition allows the company to provide a more dynamic and competitive marketplace where local and global buyers can bid on equipment or secure machines through a Buy Now option, creating greater flexibility and accessibility for clients.
